WORKPLACE TRANSPORT TRAINING ACCREDITATION APPLICATION

Terms & Conditions of Accreditation

Please read the following items and the terms of accreditation at www.rtitb.com/accred-terms carefully as accreditation may be withdrawn if they are not adhered to.

RTITB reserves the right to refuse any accreditation application without explanation.

- These terms and conditions will begin on the date of signature on the application for accreditation and continue for a period of 12 months, or until accreditation expires whichever is the latter, unless terminated. In the event of termination (for whatever reason) no fees will be refunded.
- RTITB may refuse re-accreditation if less than 50 NORS applications have been submitted in the previous accreditation period.
- Renewal of accreditation is dependent upon satisfactory monitoring of training arrangements, the submission of a new application form and continuing to meet RTITB's criteria (including having had a successful monitoring visit in the accreditation period, this will take place approximately 3 months before accreditation expiry)
- We offer a 10 working day 'cooling-off' period. If within 10 working days of RTITB receiving your application you decide you no longer wish to be RTITB accredited your application may be cancelled by notifying us in writing. Any charges applied will be credited/refunded (whichever is applicable). After 10 working days no fees will be credited or refunded.
- RTITB accreditation enables you to deliver RTITB accredited training in the following territories only: Great Britain, Northern Ireland and Republic of Ireland. If you wish to deliver RTITB accredited training in other territories you will need to contact RTITB to apply for overseas accreditation.

I CONFIRM I HAVE READ AND UNDERSTOOD THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF ACCREDITATION ABOVE, AND AT WWW.RTITB.COM/ACCRED-TERMS AND AGREE TO ADHERE TO THEM.
